Note to Parents

Our Children's Bulletin is designed to help children follow along and better understand the worship service and sermon.

Sunday Lunch Discussion Starters:

What is the purpose for your life?

How do you spend your time?

Food for Thought for Parents:

Here are some things I'm grappling with as I'm thinking about the sermons over the past weeks—and the talk I heard at the Souper Supper this past Thursday:

1. Have we taught our children to know their purpose in life?
2. Does the way our children spend their time align with the purpose they would verbalize?
3. How do we as par-

- ents take down the mask we wear in front of our children?
4. How do we as families convey hope to those who are outsiders?

No quick answers here...just a realization that the truths we're hearing have implications for every area of our lives—including our parenting and "neighboring".

Our Philosophy about Children and Worship

We believe that God is glorified by the praise of His people—adults and children alike.

We seek to incorporate children into every aspect of worship.

We believe that parents are responsible for the spiritual education of their children—but that we covenant to come alongside each other in this long term training effort.
